

Observation Game

When you board the motorcoach one day, dress as usual. Sometime during the day, make changes in your appearance, such as jewelry, shoes, jacket or sweater. Passengers are very observant and someone will be able to answer most of the questions.

When it is time to play the game, pass out souvenir or advertising pens that they can keep along with the game sheet. This will keep the passengers from having to search for one, as well as assures that everyone has a gift.

After the group is finished with the game sheet, have people raise their hands for answers and then give the correct answer. The person who answers the most questions, wins. Have an extra gift in case of a tie. A gift certificate of $10 to $25 off the cost of the next trip makes a great gift.

We have provided a link to a game sheet that you can pass out.

Thanks to Sybil Wooten from Hometown Bank who provided this game. She has used this game with her bank group with much success.
