

The Last Laugh Group Game

Turn those frowns upside down on those long bus rides with the silly group game.

Get everyone seated in a circle if you're waiting at the airport or if you're on a bus then go from left to right across each row of seats, then right to left and zigzag your way to the back of the bus to get started playing this game.

Players take it in turns to say "Ha," "Ho" or "Hee." Anyone who starts laughing is knocked out of the game.

Keep going until everyone's out. The person who keeps a straight face the longest wins a prize.
