About Greensburg...

Following the May 4th, 2007 EF5 tornado, 95% of Greensburg was destroyed. Although some tornado damage is still evident, we have rebuilt as one of the greenest cities in the United States. We have been featured as one of Budget Travel's 2011 Coolest Small Towns in America, seen in 2013 USA Today's Sustainability magazine, and appeared on TV in Planet Green's series, Greensburg.

Located 100 miles west of Wichita on Highway 54 and 45 miles east of Dodge City on Highway 400, we are a great destination or a stop on a hub and spoke itinerary out of either of these cities. Experience the Greensburg story!

The Big Well Museum & Visitor Information Center

The Big Well is a marvel of pioneer engineering that was completed in 1888 as the town's original water supply. At 109 feet deep, this is a breathtaking sight to see and one of the 8 Wonders of Kansas. This new museum opened in May 2012 and once again allows visitors to descend a spiral staircase into the Big Well and view exhibits that feature Greensburg's history, the tornado, and our rebuilding as a sustainable community. www.bigwell.org

Kiowa County Historical Museum & Soda Fountain

This museum features exhibits about the founders & pioneers of Kiowa County and artifacts from the early days of the county. Also visit the restored Hunter Drug soda fountain for all of the old fashioned treats such as a green river or chocolate hickey. www.kiowacountyksmuseum.org

Greensburg GreenTown

A local non-profit organization, Greensburg GreenTown provides information to the public about sustainability and green building. Tour the unique Silo-Eco home, or stay the night in the bed and breakfast! Green Tours of Greensburg are also available with guided tours of Greensburg's greenest facilities. www.greensburggreentown.org

5.4.7 Arts Center

The 5.4.7 Arts Center is a non-profit organization dedicated to raising awareness of both visual and performing arts by providing an environment to create and learn through exhibits, performances and classes. This unique building is the 1st LEED Platinum building in Kansas and utilizes wind and solar power. www.547artscenter.org

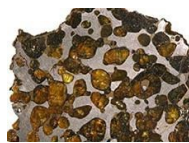

Unique Downtown Shopping

Greensburg has several one of a kind shopping experiences. From home décor to handmade fused and stained glass to western wear to antiques, we have a little something for everyone!

Just outside of Greensburg...

Kansas Meteorite Museum & Nature Center 6 miles east of Greensburg

Known world-wide to meteorite hunters and geologists, the Brenham Pallasite meteorite field contains this rare type of meteorite. The museum houses the largest collection of Brenham Pallasite meteorites in the world. www.kansasmeteorite.com

The Round Barn, Mullinville (10 miles west, 3.5 miles south)

Built in 1912 to house draft horses, this 16 sided barn in one of the 8 Wonders of Kansas Architecture and is on the National Register of Historic Places. The barn stands out for miles and was used as a landmark for training WWII bomber navigators.

M.T. Liggett's Kanza Metal Art, Mullinville

Mullinville artist M.T. Liggett's kinetic metal artwork lines nearly 1 mile of US Hwy 400 just outside Mullinville. Ranging in subject from political themes to some of his favorite people, his art is a must see attraction.
