

New Orleans for Ghost Enthusiasts

9 am- Start your morning waking up from your stay at Hotel Provincial. The hotel was once a Confederate hospital and on the 2nd floor people have said they stepped back into time!

11:30 am- Head over for an early lunch at Muriel's. Not only will you have an amazing meal, but the restaurant is said to have a resident ghost. Reserve a table in the Séance Lounge, for the chance to see something spooky!

12:30 pm- The iconic St. Louis Cathedral is calling your name! The Cathedral is one of New Orleans most prominent landmarks, it is also believed to be haunted by old Pastor Pere Dagobert. If you are lucky you may see him walking around.

1 pm: Beauregard-Keyes House is one of many of New Orleans beautiful, history filled homes. Rumor has it that ghosts of General Beauregard and his troops reenact the Battle of Shiloh in the hallway!

2 pm: Continue to explore the rest of the city, stopping at spooky places such as LaLaurie Mansion, Ursuline Covenant, and St. Louis Cemetery No. 1.

5 pm: Lafitte's Blacksmith Shop bar is the oldest bar in the United States and a perfect place to grab a drink. Keep an eye on the fireplace because that is where he hid his booty!

6 pm: With a day of ghost hunting you are sure to be hungry! Visit Napoleon House for some classic Creole cuisine. Keep your eyes peeled during sunset! You may have a visitor.

8 pm: We left the best for last! Finish your day with a Haunted History Tour in the French Quarter and learn more about New Orleans's haunted past.
