Group Game: The Dictionary Guessing Game

The Dictionary Guessing Game is fun because it takes no advance preparation and is always a new game whenever you play it. This game works well with groups of eight to ten travelers.

You'll need:

Dictionary

A few slips of paper for each person

Pens or pencils for everyone

Instructions:

1. Choose a traveler to take the first turn and give them the dictionary. Have this traveler pick an odd or unusual word .
2. Have the person with the dictionary write down the word and its correct definition while the other travelers write down the correct word and a made-up definition for it on one of their slips of paper.
3. Collect all of the slips of paper and have the traveler with the dictionary read the definitions aloud.
4. Have the group vote on which definition they think is the correct one.
