SALEM, Ohio — For people around the world, Cheyenne, Wyoming, conjures images of cowboys, rodeos and trains. Today's Cheyenne is all of that and more. From the world's largest outdoor rodeo and Western celebration to world-class museums and restaurants, a visit to Cheyenne offers great opportunities. Now Visit Cheyenne is inviting group travel planners and readers of this publication to enjoy its best experiences as attendees of the Select Traveler Conference.

The Select Traveler Conference is the premier gathering of upscale group travel planners to get new travel destination ideas, network with 400 delegates and, this year, experience Cheyenne and the cowboy lifestyle.

If you are a travel planner for a high-end group and would like to visit Cheyenne, please call Kacie Honeywell at 800-628-0993. There are less than 50 reservations now available, so contact Honeywell today if interested. Visit Cheyenne has arranged round-trip airport transfers for all delegates, and Honeywell has a scholarship program available to qualified planners. Spouses are welcome to attend.

Lodging, meals, sightseeing, entertainment, marketplace and airport transfers are included in registration. Contact Kacie Honeywell at 800-628-0993 or honeywell@grouptravelfamily.com.
