

Traveling Auction Game

Groups can have fun bidding for items in this game. See how much friendly competition you can stir up!

Instructions:

Have a box of items you have collected from travel shows, vendors, etc. Hold auctions where people can bid on each item individually. After handing each prize out to the highest bidder, place the winning contestants' names into a drawing.

At the end of the auction, draw three names and divide the money into first, second and third place. The more items they buy, the more times their names are entered. You need a lot of items in order to build up the pot. Sometimes people get really in to this and simple items can go for a surprising amount of money.

Examples for auction items:

Bags from vendors

Stuffed animals

Mugs

Notebooks

Water bottles

Christmas tins

Souvenirs from destinations

Other items you have collected and are willing to give away
